PLAI-STRLC Goes Techie

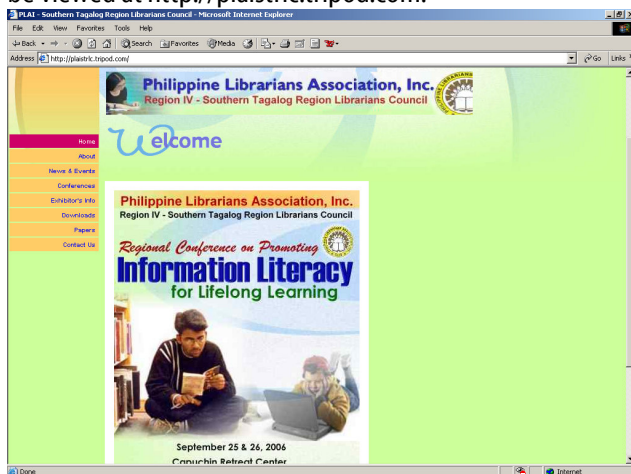

Truly when it rains, it pours! This issue of PLAI-STRLC formally announces three (3) good news to get librarians connected: 1) PLAI-STRLC Yahoo Groups 2) PLAI-STRLC 2006 Conference Website and 3) PLAI-STRLC Blog.

PLAI-STRLC now joins the techno trend through the yahoo groups for Region IV librarians. This yahoo group hopes to facilitate a faster email exchanges between librarians and friend of the library. To join PLAI-STRLC e-groups visit http://groups.yahoo.com/group/plai_strlc/ and click Join Now.

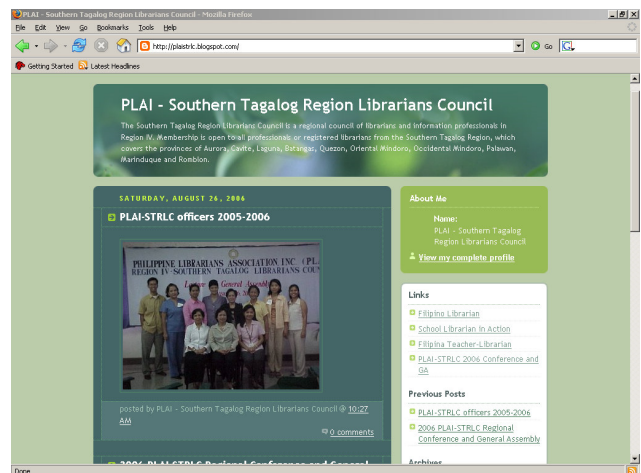

PLAI-STRLC Yahoo Groups Welcome Page

To promote the upcoming PLAI-STRLC 2006 Regional Conference on Promoting Information Literacy for Lifelong Learning, Mr. Marcial R. Batiacila volunteered to create the 2006 PLAI-STRLC Conference website which can be viewed at <http://plastrlc.tripod.com>.

PLAI-STRLC BLOG

Blogging has been a very popular jargon today. If you don't have a blog, you are not "IN". Last August 26, 2006, some PLAI-STRLC librarians experimented and successfully published the PLAI-STRLC blog. The concept came as an answer to the need for another venue to publish PLAI-STRLC News and eventually reach out to more librarians in the Region. PLAI-STRLC's blog can be viewed at <http://plastrlc.blogspot.com>. Feel free to criticize the blog or better yet contribute news. Email the PLAI STRLC secretariat for your news. Cheers!

QUEZON LIBRARIAN' S ASSOCIATION

Motivated by the Cavite Librarians Association (CLASS), Smile Cabana and Rose Villamater had stirred interest to organize the Association of Librarians in Quezon Province. The association was created before the Regional Conference and General Assembly to provide provincial representation on September 8, 2006. Invitations were distributed to all types of library, private and government alike.

To encourage librarians and unregistered librarians to attend the creation of the association and election of its officers, a forum was set and the theme " Librarians and their Accountabilities: was established. The forum aimed to enlighten some issues on accountabilities of librarians.

During the morning session, two speakers presented their papers on "Accountabilities of Librarians" Mrs. Teresita Dj. Magbag, Director of Enverga University for Academic Libraries and Mrs. Ismaelinda S. Cabana, Quezon Provincial Librarian for Public Libraries.

(Dir. Tess Dj. Magbag delivering her paper as Ms. Smile S. Cabana, PLAI-STRLC Provincial Coordinator of Quezon, looked on)

57 participants from different libraries of Quezon Province attended the forum. Out of the 57 participants, 15 were registered librarians
